

Meet the Designer

Leah Wisener

I studied Graphic Design at MSU, where I discovered my interest in museum design! I've worked at multiple museums across Starkville and even at the American History Museum in D.C.

As a child, I would scream whenever a bug was on me; now I think they're kind of cute!

Graphic Design & Exhibit Design

I'm a graphic designer and exhibition developer here at the MEM! I work to make a variety of insect-themed educational exhibits. I handle objects, write scripts, design labels, and install displays.

Why Did I Choose Entomology?

I didn't! I would have never guessed I would be working with bugs!

I study museums! I'm learning to create beautiful, inviting spaces that can teach people about the world! I'm really interested in how visuals and words work together to share knowledge.
